FC NIB: A Typeface of Duality and Craftsmanship

Nib from Font Club Belgica captures the essence of duality, much like the classic literary figure Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. It presents two distinct faces: one that is sharp and controlled, influenced by the precise, angular forms of chiseled type, and another that is fluid and human, evoking the warmth of pen-drawn lettering. In larger sizes, Nib's angular, chiseled features dominate, offering a sharp, irregular look. However, in smaller text settings, its calligraphic roots emerge, adding subtle warmth and approachability.

Before it was named Nib, Scribe was the WIP name.

This duality gives Nib a versatility that few typefaces achieve. It bridges two different traditions: the monumental precision of stone-carved letters and the organic, expressive qualities of hand-drawn type. Nib balances these extremes, making it adaptable for both impactful display work and more intimate, readable text.

Dries Wiewauters has created a typeface that thrives in the space between control and expression. Nib's fusion of chisel and pen influences offers designers the flexibility to navigate a wide range of visual contexts, creating a typeface that is both contemporary and deeply rooted in typographic tradition. Depending on how it is used Nib can be either friendly or reserved, modern or classical, expressive or restrained, ...
